Report of a naked male pounding on the door of the above address. Upon arrival, contact was made with the man who made several nonsensical statements about everyone needing to take their clothes off and circle around him. He asked officers to turn their cars off and when he was told we could not do that he began approaching them stating he would do it himself. Due to safety issues he was detained. EMS arrived and he was transported to the hospital without further incident. Northwest Connections was contacted and it was believed to be drug-related and would follow-up.
